

Specialist practice areas:

Since being called in 1986 Terence Boulter has practised exclusively as a criminal defence advocate. During that time he has acted as both leader and junior in an extensive range of serious and complex multi-handed or single defendant criminal cases:

Murder and offences of serious violence
Terrorism and hijacking

Kidnapping and False Imprisonment

Sexual offences of all kinds

Offences which include the possession of firearms and arson

Large scale conspiracies relating to the importation and supply of drugs

Offences arising out of serious public group disorder

Corporate and personal fraud

Money laundering

---